

Description:

Bring your entire dental team! This program will help identify the ways in which technology can be addictive, is used to escape, or leads us to discontentment. Determine appropriate, beneficial boundaries for technology and learn the joy of unplugging.

Lecture Objectives: How to identify addictive habits that can be negative and learn the difference between coping and escaping | Understanding the importance of sharing our struggles with those we trust | How to help others answer (how are you...really?) to create healthy work culture | How to set boundaries and replace those habits
